Subject: Skid Steer Roller Attachment Product Update

MBW's Skid Steer Roller Attachments have been popular with contractors and rental yards for their low maintenance, commercial-grade design and durability since its introduction. The hitches on skid loaders today are universal across manufacturers to allow connection to a wide variety of tools and attachments. Moving forward MBW has redesigned the attachment point on all of our Skid Steer Roller Attachments by integrating the mating portion of the hitch into the frame. Please see the pictures below for comparison.
